Wisconsin Dressage & Combined Training's Monthly Newsletter

Plan for the Future

By Caryn Vesperman

I can speak from experience: there are ways to get help for your dreams. The Dressage Foundation (TDF) offers funds for professionals, instructors, adult amateurs, juniors/young riders, breeders, individuals on the journey to become technical delegates and dressage judges or bump up to the next TD or judging level, and many more categories.

I know individuals right here in Wisconsin who have received funds from TDF—me included. It took me several tries, but I was lucky enough to receive a $5,000 gift from the Jane Savoie Adult Amateur Fund. Those who know me have heard me express gratitude for being able to travel to Florida for a few years to focus on training...and also have heard that I come home a bit in the hole financially. This year, that changes, and I couldn't be more grateful and excited. And, yes, I will chronicle my training and other educational opportunities I attend, so you can "ride along" and, like me, have some lightbulbs to help in your understanding of training and riding.

I'd also like to put out a suggestion to donate to TDF. Don't be reluctant to donate because you think your $10 or $50 doesn't make a difference—it does! Put out a basket for clinic auditors to donate to TDF. If 100 people give $10, that's $1,000, $20 equals $2,000, $50 grows to $5,000—all which help make the sport of dressage stronger! Haven't we all found $5, $10 or $20 in our pockets—and didn't know it was there so we didn't even miss it! So....why not send it to TDF to help adult amateurs, instructors who teach us, aspiring judges and TDs or show managers, as well as GMOs (like WDCTA) putting on educational events.

Here's to learning to improve our partnership with our horses and support our instructors and judges who help us improve our dressage skills!

GETTING FIT FOR RIDING AND LIFE

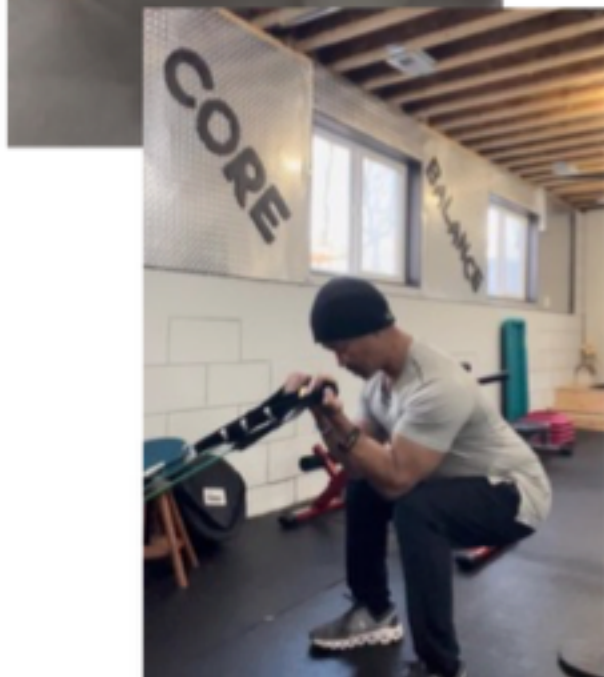

GET TIPS AND IDEAS FOR STRENGTHENING YOUR CORE AND IMPROVING YOUR FITNESS!

Arnulfo Virtusio, better known as Avey, started as a personal trainer in California in 2004. He started in a commercial gym, LA Fitness, under Dr. Sam Baktiar, who joined with physical therapist, Loren Middag. The business, called Fitness Concept, moved to a private gym in Chino, CA, where Avey trained for about six years. He then decided to establish his own personal training business, now located in Oregon, WI.

Avey has a wide array of clients from teenagers to retirees, as well as patients recovering from injuries. Avey enjoys working with athletes including equestrians and those involved in team sports.

Conditioning and balance are his specialties. He starts with core, balance, muscle endurance and flexibility. Avey also created and developed a resistance band called the Bellband System.

"I love what I do! Seeing the transformation and goals someone reaches is so rewarding. Making a positive impact on someone is priceless. I guess I get that from my mother being a lifelong teacher."

- Arnulfo "Avey" Virtusio

WDCTA members will be sent a link prior to the presentation which will be on

A Spectacular Fall in So Many Ways

The End of the Show Season

All the Regional Championships are over. Congratulations to all of you who qualified and then attended these competitions. No matter what your score or if you even ended up in the ribbons, the fact that you qualified to attend is a testament to your hard work. Good luck to those who qualified and are planning to attend the US Dressage Finals. I hope your travels are safe and the weather is good in Lexington! Send me photos of your adventure and news of your accomplishments.

Speaking of showing, send in your scores for WDCTA awards by Nov. 30. No leeway on this deadline. Then watch for information on our annual meeting/awards banquet. It's a fun event to break up the winter. (Yes, the cold and snow are coming, in spite of how moderate the temperatures have been so far this fall!)

Getting Fit for Better Riding

Make sure you attend the virtual WDCTA event, "Getting Fit for Riding and Life." I can personally attest to how much better, stronger and fitter I feel in the saddle and in my every day life, since I've been working out regularly with a trainer for about a year. Yes, I come home sore after working out, but I feel so much better and stronger. Basically, I'm refusing to give into my birthdays and settling for settling into the couch. At this event, Avey will lead attendees through exercises to help both in riding and "normal" life. See the info on the previous page and watch for your link to join in. Just do it!

Membership Renewal

Our membership drive is underway for 2025. More than 20 new members have already joined—many from the former NEWDA, so we're thrilled to have you join us and bring your enthusiasm and ideas! If you haven't rejoined, please do so soon, so you don't miss any activities or newsletters.

Florida, Here I Come

In mid-November, I head for Florida with two of my horses. I'm grateful to have the chance to head south out of the cold again and grateful my husband will manage the homefront with three remaining horses, two barn cats and one housecat. What I learn, I'll do my best to report in this newsletter. Likewise, if you have lessons or clinics that make a lightbulb go off for you, let me know so I can share the insights with other members. This is a challenging sport physically, mentally and emotionally, so sharing with others may help all of us in our journey. Plus...we need to have fun, so send interesting or even goofy photos of you and your horse.

"If you want something badly enough, you'll find a way."

— Jane Savoie to Caryn at a riding clinic years ago

Happy Thanksgiving!
